

Aloha from Maresa

Say Aloha! Send editorial & advertising inquiries to info@lhmbhi.com

I'd say I am moderately superstitious. I always knock on wood, but I'm unbothered by the number thirteen. A broken mirror makes me feel unsettled, but a black cat in my path just makes me smile. So, is my trepidation to say "things are finally starting to feel a bit normal," superstitious or steeped in experience? My moderate superstition would indicate it's a mix of both. Regardless, it is time to applaud all our small wins. Who knows what tomorrow will bring, so it is important to celebrate the small steps toward your new normal at every turn.

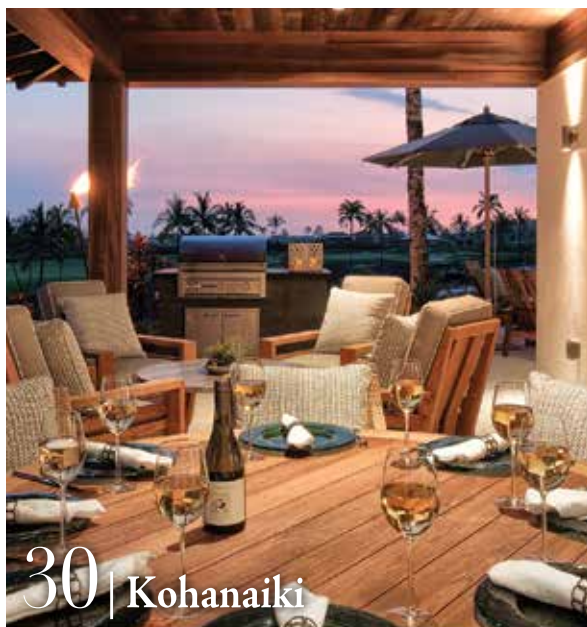

We are grateful that real estate has continued to thrive over the past year. There has been no shortage of connecting Realtors to buyers and sellers and their new safe havens. If you are looking for a move-in ready retreat of your own, check out this issue's fantastic front cover home. 5611 Kalaniana'ole Highway in Honolulu was recently remodeled with modern flair. For more information on this oceanfront sanctuary, presented by Tracy Allen, turn to pages 4 & 5. Thank you for taking the time to pick up the magazine, read this note, and share some Aloha. We appreciate you!

Mahalo,
