Serene tucked away from Mainland Madness, Pualani is nestled amongst mature Koa trees, revered Ohia, and orchid filled hapu'u ferns. It's 5.6 acres of lush jungle foliage sports a cleared pathway to view the entire property expanse, offering a refuge for native Kalij pheasant, Saffron Finch, and the only species of hawk native to Hawaii, the 'I'o. The exquisitely detailed home features Craftsman Style architecture lovingly restored to its glory. Interior details including original cross-hatched windowpanes, Ohia wood floors, plate rails featured on board and batten walls, and high coffered ceilings, give each room a feeling of light and air. Pualani is a showcase property awaiting the discerning buyer who craves a peaceful life journey.
